

Constellation Trivia Trivia: Questions, Answers, and Facts Printable Trivia Pack

Constellation Trivia trivia explores the star patterns that have helped people map the night sky since antiquity. From myth-rich figures remembered across cultures to the 88 constellations recognized by modern astronomy, this topic offers a mix of easy laughs, surprising facts, and tougher challenges for curious stargazers.

HARD CONSTELLATION TRIVIA

1. Which obsolete giant constellation was later broken up into Carina, Puppis, and Vela?

Answer: Argo Navis

2. Name all three modern constellations created from the former Argo Navis.?

Answer: Carina, Puppis, and Vela

3. In traditional star maps, which constellation is shown handling a serpent?

Answer: Ophiuchus

4. If a constellation's emblem is a sea monster rather than a fish or whale, which one is it?

Answer: Cetus

5. Which constellation is the sky's traditional 'northern crown'?

Answer: Corona Borealis

6. Which constellation takes its name from Queen Berenice's hair?

Answer: Coma Berenices

7. A herdsman appears in the sky under what constellation name?

Answer: Boötes

8. Which constellation is traditionally portrayed as a king?

Answer: Cepheus

9. Which constellation's classic role is that of a charioteer?

Answer: Auriga

10. Which southern constellation represents a bird-of-paradise?

Answer: Apus

11. Which constellation was named after Table Mountain at the Cape of Good Hope?

Answer: Mensa

12. Which southern constellation has a name that literally means 'Indian'?

Answer: Indus

13. Which southern constellation is associated with a carpenter's square?

Answer: Norma

14. Which southern constellation gets its name from the reticle of an eyepiece?

Answer: Reticulum

FUNNY CONSTELLATION TRIVIA

1. If the night sky secretly ran a safari, which constellation would be the giraffe craning over everyone else?

Answer: Camelopardalis

2. Which constellation gives the heavens their official unicorn quota?

Answer: Monoceros

3. Which constellation was named with the idea that you'd need extra-sharp eyesight to spot its faint stars?

Answer: Lynx

4. Tiny pest, giant reputation: which constellation represents a fly?

Answer: Musca

5. Which constellation sounds like the universe got carried away and launched a fish into the air?

Answer: Volans

6. Which constellation represents a dolphinfish rather than a dolphin, just to keep everyone on their toes?

Answer: Dorado

7. If the stars decided formalwear needed more feathers, which constellation would be the peacock?

Answer: Pavo

8. Which constellation brings serious oversized-beak energy by representing a toucan?

Answer: Tucana

9. Which constellation is basically the sky's elegant bird with very long legs: the crane?

Answer: Grus

10. Which constellation represents a lizard, proving even the reptiles got invited overhead?

Answer: Lacerta

11. Which constellation is the dolphin of the sky, not to be confused with the dolphinfish one?

Answer: Delphinus

12. Which constellation represents a little horse, as if a full-size celestial horse was just too much commitment?

Answer: Equuleus

13. Which constellation skips the animal kingdom entirely and just shows up as an arrow?

Answer: Sagitta

FUN CONSTELLATION TRIVIA

1. If you went looking for the Eagle Nebula, which constellation would be its celestial neighborhood?

Answer: Serpens

2. True or false: the Eagle Nebula is located in Serpens.?

Answer: True

3. The Sombrero Galaxy sounds dressed for a partyâ what constellation is it actually in?

Answer: Virgo

4. Which constellation hosts the Sombrero Galaxy?

Answer: Virgo

5. Omega Centauri practically gives itself away by name, but in which constellation does it appear?

Answer: Centaurus

6. Name the constellation where Omega Centauri appears.?

Answer: Centaurus

7. M13 is a celebrity among globular clusters. Which constellation gets to claim it?

Answer: Hercules

8. True or false: M13 is in Hercules.?

Answer: True

9. The Dumbbell Nebula, also called M27, lifts cosmic weights in which constellation?

Answer: Vulpecula

10. Which constellation is home to M27, better known as the Dumbbell Nebula?

Answer: Vulpecula

11. The Whirlpool Galaxy, cataloged as M51, spins away in what constellation?

Answer: Canes Venatici

12. If your telescope is aimed at Canes Venatici, which famous galaxy from this list are you lining up?

Answer: The Whirlpool Galaxy (M51)

13. Which bright red supergiant star belongs to Orion: Betelgeuse or Antares?

Answer: Betelgeuse

CONSTELLATION FAMILY TRIVIA

1. How many modern constellations are officially recognized by the International

Astronomical Union?

Answer: 88 modern constellations are officially recognized by the International Astronomical Union.

2. Which ancient astronomer listed 48 constellations in the 2nd century?

Answer: Ptolemy listed 48 constellations in the 2nd century.

3. Who published the star atlas called Uranometria in 1603?

Answer: Johann Bayer published Uranometria in 1603.

4. Which astronomer introduced several constellations that are still used today?

Answer: Johannes Hevelius introduced several constellations still used today.

5. Which constellation contains the south celestial pole?

Answer: Octans contains the south celestial pole.

6. True or false: The north celestial pole is the point around which northern stars appear to rotate.?

Answer: False

7. If a sky map uses the coordinate that works roughly like longitude on Earth, what is that coordinate called?

Answer: That coordinate is called right ascension.

8. What is the name for the band of constellations along the Sun's apparent path?

Answer: That band is called the zodiac.

9. Over the course of a year, the Sun appears to move through how many traditional zodiac constellations?

Answer: The Sun appears to move through 12 traditional zodiac constellations over a year.

10. What do astronomers call the Sun's apparent yearly path across the sky?

Answer: The Sun's apparent yearly path across the sky is called the ecliptic.

11. Some constellations are such stay-up-late champions that they never dip below the horizon for certain observers. What are they called?

Answer: They are called circumpolar constellations.

12. Which constellation is widely known as the Southern Cross?

Answer: Crux is widely known as the Southern Cross.

EASY CONSTELLATION TRIVIA

1. Which constellation is commonly known as the Hunter?

Answer: Orion

2. What is the common animal name for Ursa Major?

Answer: The Great Bear

3. Ursa Minor is commonly called what?

Answer: The Little Bear

4. Cassiopeia is traditionally represented as which royal figure?

Answer: A queen

5. Which constellation is traditionally shown as a water-bearer?

Answer: Aquarius

6. Leo represents which animal?

Answer: A lion

7. If you spot Scorpius on a star chart, what creature does it represent?

Answer: A scorpion

8. Taurus is the constellation of what animal?

Answer: A bull

9. Gemini is best known for representing what pair?

Answer: Twins

10. Pegasus is traditionally shown as what kind of horse?

Answer: A winged horse

11. The famous Teapot asterism is found in which constellation?

Answer: Sagittarius

12. The Summer Triangle is formed by stars in Lyra, Cygnus, and which other constellation?

Answer: Aquila

13. What is the name of the star pattern made from stars in Lyra, Cygnus, and Aquila?

Answer: The Summer Triangle

Source: <https://triviagong.com/trivia/constellation-trivia-trivia>