

Consumer Products Trivia: Questions, Answers, and Facts Printable Trivia Pack

Consumer Products trivia explores the familiar items people buy, use, and recognize every day, from household staples to iconic brand-name goods. Rooted in the rise of mass production, advertising, and retail culture, this topic blends easy fun with surprising history and tougher questions about the products that became part of daily life.

HARD CONSUMER PRODUCTS TRIVIA

1. Which inventor's surname became the name of the 3D combination puzzle at the center of speed-solving culture?

Answer: Ernő Rubik

2. Name the puzzle identified specifically as a 3D combination puzzle invented by Ernő Rubik.?

Answer: Rubik's Cube

3. What household brand is best known not for cookware or appliances, but for food storage containers?

Answer: Tupperware

4. Which founder is tied to the chocolate company that carries his own surname?

Answer: Milton Hershey

5. Assembly-line production made automobiles more accessible through the company associated with which industrialist?

Answer: Henry Ford

6. Which retail founder belongs in this lineup because he started Walmart?

Answer: Sam Walton

7. Which country is internationally associated with coffee production in the provided facts?

Answer: Colombia

8. What snack brand is described as stackable potato-based crisps sold in a cylindrical can?

Answer: Pringles

9. If a product clue includes both '3D' and 'combination puzzle,' which branded object does it point to?

Answer: Rubik's Cube

10. Whose invention is embedded directly in the product name 'Rubik's Cube'?

Answer: Ernő Rubik

11. Which brand would be the strongest match for a clue about sealing leftovers rather than serving snacks or solving puzzles?

Answer: Tupperware

12. Which founder fits the clue: retail giant first, Walmart second?

Answer: Sam Walton

13. Who is the co-founder you would name if the company prompt were simply Apple?

Answer: Steve Jobs

14. Playful one: if your snack comes in a can like it's auditioning for a geometric throne room, what brand are you probably eating?

Answer: Pringles

FUNNY CONSUMER PRODUCTS TRIVIA

1. Which company calls Cupertino, California home when it's not busy launching shiny gadgets?

Answer: Apple

2. If you wanted to visit Apple's headquarters, which California city should your map app take you to?

Answer: Cupertino

3. What city is a major center for fashion, basically serving couture with a side of espresso?

Answer: Milan

4. In the world of fashion, which city is famous for being a major hub rather than just having very well-dressed pigeons?

Answer: Milan

5. Which U.S. city became closely associated with American automobile manufacturing, earning serious factory-floor fame?

Answer: Detroit

6. If American car-making had a hometown nickname contest, which city would be the obvious front-runner?

Answer: Detroit

7. Which candy is known for being small, chocolatey, candy-coated, and proudly wearing a printed letter on each piece?

Answer: M&M's

8. What candy product can literally spell out its identity one piece at a time thanks to a printed letter?

Answer: M&M's

9. Which brand is strongly associated with adhesive bandages, the tiny heroes of paper-cut drama?

Answer: Band-Aid

10. When someone says they need an adhesive bandage, which brand name often pops up first?

Answer: Band-Aid

11. What brand is best known for stand mixers used in home kitchens, beloved by bakers and batter everywhere?

Answer: KitchenAid

12. If your countertop has a famous stand mixer ready to whip cream like it means business, what brand is it likely to be?

Answer: KitchenAid

13. Which brand is associated with permanent markers, ideal for labeling boxes or accidentally your hand?

Answer: Sharpie

FUN CONSUMER PRODUCTS TRIVIA

1. If your gadget took a passport photo, which country would it list as Samsung's home base?

Answer: South Korea

2. Nutella's origin story starts in which country?

Answer: Italy

3. What label tells shoppers a product meets specified energy-efficiency criteria?

Answer: Energy Star

4. Which kind of battery is commonly sold in sizes like AA and AAA?

Answer: alkaline battery

5. At the soda aisle, what package size is a common pick for soft drinks in many markets?

Answer: two-liter bottle

6. What product is built for the very specific mission of brewing one cup at a time?

Answer: coffee pod

7. What machine-friendly code is used to identify retail products?

Answer: UPC barcode

8. When a price tag says MSRP, what does that abbreviation stand for?

Answer: Manufacturer's Suggested Retail Price

9. True or false: Samsung is based in Italy.?

Answer: False

10. Which country gets the hazelnutty bragging rights for developing Nutella?

Answer: Italy

11. A shiny sticker promising a product meets specified energy-efficiency criteria would be which label?

Answer: Energy Star

12. Which is the better match for AA and AAA: alkaline battery or two-liter bottle?

Answer: alkaline battery

13. For soft drinks, what large-format package size is common in many markets?

Answer: two-liter bottle

CONSUMER PRODUCTS FAMILY TRIVIA

1. Who co-founded the company that bears the Honda name?

Answer: Soichiro Honda

2. Which cosmetics business was co-founded by Est[^]e Lauder?

Answer: The cosmetics company that carries her name, Est[^]e Lauder

3. Who founded IKEA?

Answer: Ingvar Kamprad

4. IKEA originated in which country?

Answer: Sweden

5. Which person is historically linked to the early blue jeans business in the United States?

Answer: Levi Strauss

6. Who is a co-founder of Nike?

Answer: Phil Knight

7. Which inventor became known for promoting bagless vacuum cleaner technology?

Answer: James Dyson

8. True or false: IKEA began in Sweden.?

Answer: True

9. If you were shopping for a new pair of sneakers, which co-founder would be connected to Nike?

Answer: Phil Knight

10. Which founder matches this home-furnishings brand: IKEA?

Answer: Ingvar Kamprad

11. Beauty aisle challenge: whose own name appears on the cosmetics company she co-founded?

Answer: Est[^]e Lauder

12. Which name belongs with bagless vacuum cleaner technology?

Answer: James Dyson

EASY CONSUMER PRODUCTS TRIVIA

1. What sturdy cotton fabric is most closely associated with jeans?

Answer: Denim

2. In what year did Sony introduce the Walkman?

Answer: 1979

3. The first iPhone was unveiled in which year?

Answer: 2007

4. Walmart opened its first store in what year?

Answer: 1962

5. Coca-Cola dates back to which year?

Answer: 1886

6. Barbie was launched in what year?

Answer: 1959

7. What is the name of Amazon's e-reader product line?

Answer: Kindle

8. Which Apple product was introduced in 2007?

Answer: iPhone

9. True or false: Denim is commonly known as the fabric used for jeans.?

Answer: True

10. Before smartphones took over, Sony's Walkman first appeared in what year?

Answer: 1979

11. What year is famous for the unveiling of the first iPhone?

Answer: 2007

12. If you traveled back to Walmart's very first store opening, what year would you visit?

Answer: 1962

13. Which year marks the beginning of Coca-Cola's history?

Answer: 1886

Source: <https://triviagong.com/themes/consumer-products>