

The Remains of the Day Trivia: Questions, Answers, and Facts Printable Trivia Pack

The Remains of the Day trivia explores Kazuo Ishiguro's 1989 novel about Stevens, a devoted butler reflecting on a lifetime of service at Darlington Hall near Oxford, England. Centered on one of Ishiguro's most celebrated books, these questions highlight its characters, setting, and the restrained emotions that shape the story.

HARD THE REMAINS OF THE DAY TRIVIA

1. Into how many dated parts is the novel formally divided?

Answer: The novel is divided into six dated parts.

2. What is the exact title of the novel's opening section?

Answer: The opening section is titled 'Day One - Evening'.

3. Which section title closes the novel?

Answer: The final section is titled 'Day Six - Evening'.

4. Over what span of time does the novel's present-day action take place?

Answer: The present-day action unfolds over six days.

5. How is Stevens most commonly characterized by critics because of the limits and distortions in his narration?

Answer: He is widely read as an unreliable narrator.

6. Lord Darlington is linked in the novel to what interwar political tendency?

Answer: He is linked to appeasement politics.

7. What significant type of event takes place at Darlington Hall, giving the house direct political importance?

Answer: A key political gathering takes place there.

8. Which American senator sharply criticizes the English amateurs around Lord Darlington?

Answer: Senator Lewis.

9. Name Lord Darlington's young associate who appears in Stevens's recollections.?

Answer: Reginald Cardinal.

10. What specific group of employees does Stevens dismiss on Lord Darlington's orders?

Answer: Two Jewish maids.

11. How does Miss Kenton respond to the dismissal of the Jewish maids?

Answer: She openly objects to the dismissal.

12. What personal tragedy occurs while Stevens continues serving during an important evening?

Answer: His father dies.

13. Near what Weymouth landmark does the novel's closing conversation take place?

Answer: Near the pier, by the evening lights.

14. What notable fact about Miss Kenton's name is maintained throughout the novel?

Answer: Her first name is never explicitly given.

FUNNY THE REMAINS OF THE DAY TRIVIA

1. What social superpower does Mr Farraday urge Stevens to develop, as if butler school needed a comedy elective?

Answer: He encourages Stevens to develop a sense of banter.

2. Stevens approaches chat like homework. What kind of conversation does he study to handle more successfully?

Answer: He studies how to make light conversation more successfully.

3. During Stevens's travels, which book pops up like an unexpectedly patriotic travel companion?

Answer: The Wonder of England.

4. True or false: Stevens relaxes most when the conversation gets very personal.?

Answer: False

5. Some villagers look at Stevens and accidentally promote him. What do they sometimes mistake him for?

Answer: A gentleman.

6. Which villager does Stevens meet, proving that even the most solemn journey includes a man named Harry?

Answer: Harry Smith.

7. Which doctor turns up on Stevens's trip, adding one more person for him to address with maximum ceremony?

Answer: Dr Carlisle.

8. What Stevens trait keeps turning ordinary casual situations into comic misunderstandings?

Answer: His extreme formality.

9. For Stevens, everyday social exchanges are handled with the spirit of what?

Answer: Professional assignments.

10. Stevens seems to think conversation belongs in the same category as polishing silver: what is it to him?

Answer: A skill that can be practiced.

11. The novel gets comic mileage from contrasting Stevens's stiffness with what quality in Mr Farraday?

Answer: Mr Farraday's informality.

12. Stevens is far more self-assured with silver and schedules than with what?

Answer: Jokes.

13. When Stevens tries banter, is it mostly spontaneous sparkle or carefully assembled effort?

Answer: It is usually deliberate rather than spontaneous.

FUN THE REMAINS OF THE DAY TRIVIA

1. What year did The Remains of the Day make its way to movie screens?

Answer: 1993

2. Who directed the 1993 film adaptation of The Remains of the Day?

Answer: James Ivory

3. Which actor played the famously buttoned-up Stevens in the film?

Answer: Anthony Hopkins

4. Who played Miss Kenton in the film adaptation?

Answer: Emma Thompson

5. Who wrote the screenplay for the 1993 adaptation?

Answer: Ruth Praver Jhabvala

6. Which actor appears as Mr Farraday in the film?

Answer: Christopher Reeve

7. Who played Lord Darlington in the movie version?

Answer: James Fox

8. At the Oscars, The Remains of the Day landed a nomination in which top category?

Answer: Best Picture

9. How many Academy Award nominations did the film adaptation receive?

Answer: Eight Academy Award nominations

10. How long after the novel's publication did the cinema adaptation arrive?

Answer: Four years

11. True or false: The book was published in the same year it won the Booker Prize.?

Answer: True

12. If you take the title phrase literally, what part of the day are we talking about?

Answer: Evening time

13. Beyond the clock, the title also hints at what remains after a life of what?

Answer: Missed chances

THE REMAINS OF THE DAY FAMILY TRIVIA

1. What region does Stevens travel through on his motoring trip?

Answer: The West Country.

2. Which city is one of the stops on Stevens's journey?

Answer: Salisbury.

3. What is the name of the pond Stevens visits on his route?

Answer: Mortimer's Pond.

4. Which town appears in Stevens's travel route: Taunton, York, or Dover?

Answer: Taunton.

5. Little Compton shows up in the story as what kind of place?

Answer: A destination on Stevens's journey.

6. At the end of the novel, which seaside town is featured?

Answer: Weymouth.

7. After marrying, what name does Miss Kenton go by?

Answer: Mrs Benn.

8. What message sparks Stevens's trip in the first place?

Answer: A letter from Miss Kenton.

9. Who in Stevens's family also worked in service?

Answer: Stevens's father.

10. At Darlington Hall, what job does Stevens's father take on?

Answer: He works there as an elderly butler.

11. When Miss Kenton and Stevens talk shop, what problem do they often discuss?

Answer: Staffing problems at the house.

12. The story compares earlier memories with what later setting?

Answer: Postwar England.

EASY THE REMAINS OF THE DAY TRIVIA

1. Who wrote The Remains of the Day?

Answer: Kazuo Ishiguro

2. In what year was The Remains of the Day published?

Answer: 1989

3. What is the name of the narrator in The Remains of the Day?

Answer: Stevens

4. What job does Stevens have?

Answer: He is a butler.

5. At what great house has Stevens long served?

Answer: Darlington Hall

6. Darlington Hall is located near which English city?

Answer: Oxford

7. What kind of place is Darlington Hall?

Answer: A fictitious stately home

8. The Remains of the Day is set in which country?

Answer: England

9. Who is Stevens's former employer?

Answer: Lord Darlington

10. Which housekeeper does Stevens remember throughout the novel?

Answer: Miss Kenton

11. Which major literary prize did The Remains of the Day win in 1989?

Answer: The Booker Prize

12. Is the book written in first person or third person?

Answer: First person

13. Much of the novel takes the form of Stevens's what?

Answer: Recollections

Source: <https://triviagong.com/trivia/the-remains-of-the-day-trivia>